MARYLAND MAN HELD FOR COURT IN FATAL CRASH

David Samuel Muench, 25, Emmitsburg R. 1, was held under $1,000 bail for the February term of court Monday evening following a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Muench pleaded innocent to the charge brought immediately following an inquest in which the coroner's jury found that Lloyd Douglas Gillespie, 24, Taneytown R. 2 farmer, died as a result of the "negligent driving" of Muench on November 17.

Only one witness appeared at both the inquest held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the courthouse, and the hearing held following the inquest at Justice Basehore's office on Lincoln Square.

State Policeman Edwin J. Sheva told of being called to the scene of an accident four miles west of here on the Fairfield Road at 2:47 o'clock on the morning of November 17.

Car Was Upside Down

On arrival, he said, he found an auto on its roof in the center of the highway. Gillespie, fatally injured, was lying on the berm of the highway. "Some soldiers" who had been passing in another car were giving first aid treatment to Muench.

Sheva said he placed flares, helped direct traffic until the ambulance arrived and removed Muench to the Warner hospital.

Two hours later he said he talked to Muench who had a head injury but seemed "normal" in his speech. Muench told him, Sheva said, that he had had a "few beers" at Ohler's in Emmitsburg, where he had met Gillespie. The two men had gone to the Amvets near Fairfield where Muench, according to the officer, said he had three drinks of whiskey.

Leaving there, Muench and Gillespie headed toward Gettysburg where they planned to stop for a cup of coffee before returning home.

Cites Route Of Car

Sheva said Muench told him he was driving toward Gettysburg, with Gillespie as a passenger,

MAN IS FOUND SEMI-CONSCIOUS IN GARAGE HERE

Harry Edgar Rentzel, 67, of 149 E. Middle St., was reported in "fair" condition at the Warner Hospital today after having apparently spent 18 hours in his auto in a garage in the rear of 55 Hanover St. overcome by monoxide gas.

Dr. David C. Stoner was summoned when Mrs. C. J. Wilson, sister of Mr. Rentzel, in whose garage he kept his car, noticed that he was in the vehicle in the closed garage.

Dr. Stoner in turn summoned officer Paul B. Shealer who opened the rear door of the garage. Dr. Stoner found Rentzel in a semi-conscious condition. Local firemen pushed Rentzel's car out of the garage in order to extricate him from behind the front seat and he was removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Seen Sunday Night

Rentzel was last seen Sunday night at 11 o'clock, but it was not known whether he spent the entire time from then until about 6 o'clock Monday night in the car.

Shealer said he believed he may have gone to the garage later to start the engine to "get warm" and was overcome by the fumes.

Because of the cold condition of his legs, it is believed he had been in the car some time.

Shealer said he had been told that Rentzel left his lodging house at 11 o'clock Sunday night with the intention of finding another lodging place. The heater and ignition switch of the car were both turned on, Shealer said, but the gas tank was empty. The rear doors of the garage were fastened shut by wires.

County Motorist To Face Code Count

A Gettysburg motorist will be charged with reckless driving, Chambersburg police said Monday, following a collision of his auto with that of Raymond M. Witmer Jr., Greencastle R. 3, at 6:50 o'clock Sunday evening in Chambersburg.

Police said Herman H. Keefer, Gettysburg R. 3, attempted a left turn into Lincoln Way while moving in the eastern lane of traffic on Second Street. Keefer's auto struck the right front fender of Witmer's car which was traveling in the western traffic lane of Second Street. The collision caused damages totaling $150 to the Keefer auto and $100 to the Witmer car.

PREDICTS VISIT TO MOON WITHIN EARLY FUTURE

Professor Richard Mara, associate professor of physics at Gettysburg College, said in a talk before the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening at the Peace Light Inn that he would not be surprised if a human will reach the moon "within the lifetime of one of us—but more likely it will be in the lifetime of our son and daughters."

The speaker pointed out that the term "outer space" is being generally misused a great deal in current satellite talks. He said the Russian sputnik is not in "outer space" but within a very close proximity to the earth when compared with the vast reaches of the universe that can be measured.

"It"s an exciting time to be alive," Mara observed as he cited the swift scientific advances of the last half century since Kitty Hawk in 1903. He described the successful launching of the first Russian satellite as of comparable importance to the first airplane flight "or maybe more so."

Red Claims Accurate

He said that while Russian claims in economic and political fields may well be looked upon "with a jaundiced eye" their scientific claims have proved to be completely accurate in every instance. He added that with the energy they supplied to put the big, second sputnik into orbit, "it seems pretty certain that they have the means to put a rocket on the moon."

Lentz Post 202 of the American Legion mixed business with a Christmas program and a gift exchange Monday evening at the organization's last meeting of the year. Mrs. Mary Fridinger, hospital chairman, reported hospital beds, wheel chairs and walkers owned by the auxiliary are in use but there are adult and junior-size crutches available for loan.

Appreciation was expressed to all who contributed to its success and from the proceeds the auxiliary has bought an extra walker, an extra hospital bed and mattress. The next subscription campaign will start next September.

Mrs. Bunteen asked members to send Christmas cards to the unit's adopted child, Lloyd Aldridge, at the Scotland School for Veterans' Children.

Riegle Tells Board High School Facilities Will Be Overcrowded, Few Years

BOARD TO HOLD THIRD MEETING ON NEW SCHOOL

Gettysburg Joint School district directors Monday evening at their regular December meeting at the high school building voted to hold a second special December meeting—their third session this month—next Wednesday, December 18, to push plans for the new grade school building.

Hoping to get the school — which has yet to be named — to the bidding stage by next month, the directors will give final drawings their last checkup on that date so that final state aproval can be asked December 31. When the final state okay is given, bids can be advertised for.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham, board president, asked for suggestions on a name for the new building Monday evening, received only one and found the board not ready to make a decision.

Suggests Judge Wills

The lone suggestion came from Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle who mentioned the name of David A. Wills, former Adams County judge, Lincoln's host on his famous visit here in 1863, first county superintendent of schools and "the local man most responsible for the national park and Gettysburg as it is today."

A decision on a name is expected to be reached on the 18th and Dr. Wickerham invited additional suggestions from the public.

The directors voted to make the first payment to the architects on the new building, $8,703.75, which represents 25 per cent of the estimated total free for the Buchart Engineering company on the new building. A contract the joint district signed with the architects requires payment of 25 per cent of the total upon completion of preliminary plans. That stage was reached some time ago. An additional 50 per cent is due when final plans are completed. The fee is to be 5½ per cent of the cost of the building. The exact amount will not be known until after contracts are awarded. The final payment will be made when the school district accepts the building after completion.

The plan to call the entire board into session December 18 was decided upon in place of a proposal to assign the final decisions on the plans to a board committee.

LADIES NIGHT PARTY

The Exchange Club will hold its annual Ladies' Night and Christmas party tonight at 7 o'clock at the Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns.

The Gettysburg Joint School Board, which expects to advertise next month for bids on a new 20-room grade school building, learned Monday evening that by the time that building is ready for use, the present high school facilities will be "bursting at the seams" and will have to be expanded.

Anticipated enrollment figures for the high school showing that it will be at capacity by 1960 and will continue to increase until at least 1969 were submitted by Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle, who called the figures "conservative."

The matter came before the Joint Board Monday evening in a Finance and Planning committee report that said: "The committee was of the opinion that it is not too soon to be alerted to the problem and that constructive thought should be directed toward a solution by the committee and by board members."

Crowded For Room

The report indicated that the pinch at the high school will be felt next year in industrial arts shops which are now at capacity and will have to handle more pupils next year. Physical education, home economics and art departments will feel the pinch for space at the high school next. "There will be enough classrooms for another year or two," Riegle said as he pointed out that the large grade school enrollments of the last few years will be reaching high school so on.

Riegle had some suggestions about what might be done to handle the big high school population after 1960. He said in part:

"As a preliminary suggestion as to how we might meet our high school building needs the following are offered as ideas: Construct an annex for Senior High pupils containing all the facilities of our present building except an auditorium.

Will Need Space

"At present we have approximately 300 boys in the Junior High School who must take industrial arts and our shops are now used completely. When the number of boys required to take industrial arts exceeds this number materially more shop space will be required and our

Dulles Says NATO Must Be Ready To Meet Challenges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the North Atlantic Allies must be prepared to meet more adequately the challege of both military and economic warfare in the future.

Dulles told his last news conference before his departure Thursday for next week's NATO Council meeting in Paris that he thinks the Allies can make a greater use of Europe's industrial potential in producing some of the new weapons.

He also said the whole question of global versus limited war is being restudied, but the general thinking of U.S. military leaders is that the possibility of local conflict should be considered in planning.

There will be no NATO doctrine on the question of the scope of possible future wars pending studies now being developed, Dulles said.

Snub To Kennan

Dulles delivered a verbal snub to former U.S. Ambassador George Kennan who has been criticizing U.S. foreign policy and proposing new lines of action in speeches in Britain.

Asked whether he thinks it would be valuable to bring Kennan back in the government — Kennan retired under pressure early in Dulles' administration—Dulles said tersely that the government has an opportunity to get his thinking anyway.

Dulles expressed confidence that the mere fact Allied government heads are meeting at Paris next Monday through Wednesday will reinvigorate the Western alliance.

Details Remain Secret

Dulles said he thinks consultation among the 15 member governments on broad diplomatic issues and major policy problems will be strengthened and broadened.

But he firmly rule out any effort to reduce this to rigid rules for consultation, saying what is needed is to establish the habit of talking together.

Dulles' remarks were broadly general and still kept secret the exact proposals worked out for the NATO conference. The broad outlines, however, have become known.

19 WILL JOIN P.O. STAFF FOR XMAS SERVICE

Nineteen men will join the Gettysburg post office staff Monday to help with the expected flood of Christmas mail during the following week or so.

Assistant Postmaster Arthur W. Warman said the "mail has been picking up steadily as the Christmas season approaches and Monday we noticed the first real big rush, thus indicating that the mailing is following the trend of other years.

"Our biggest flow of mail will probably be around December 19, 20 and 21 slackening off slightly after that until the 24th when the mail will be almost back to normal."

Five of the men who begin work Monday will aid the rural carriers, John H. Weaver on Route 1, Rev. Herbert N. Brownlee on Route 2, Samuel T. Kessel on Route 3, John Dutterer on Route 4 and Norman F. Weaver on Route 5.

The rural carrier assistants will help the regular carriers sort mail in the mornings, then the regular carriers and the special substitutes will divide the routes so that customers will get mail at about the same time despite the larger amount of mail it is anticipated will be delivered on the rural routes.

To deliver the Christmas mail, the number of deliveries will be stepped up from one a day in the regular once a day areas, to three times a day, with the first delivery between 8 and 11 o'clock in the morning and the other two deliveries between noon and 5 o'clock in the evening.

PUC DEFERS NEW PHONE CHARGES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Bell Telephone Co.'s proposal to revise its charges for installing telephones has been put off by the Public Utility Commission until June 13.

The commission ordered the delay yesterday. The changes, which Bell estimated would add $2,748,000 annually to its gross income, were to have become effective Friday.

Uniform charges for installing new telephones or reconnecting telephones would be set up: $7 for residential service and $10 for business service. The present rates are $4 for a residential telephone and $7 for a business telephone, except in Philadelphia where the charges are $4.25 and $8.

The city of Philadelphia has opposed the changes.

The PUC ordered public hearings held as soon as possible.

Probe Trapping Of Truck On Rails

CODOGNO, Italy (AP)—Officials today opened an investigation to determine how two railway crossing barriers became a death trap for 15 persons in the collision of a truck and one of Europe's fastest trains.

Nineteen of the 30 injured were released from the hospital after treatment. Ten Italians and a Swiss remained in serious condition.

The Milan-to-Rome electric Rapido express was speeding toward this village 40 miles south of Milan at about 80 miles an hour when the barriers went down. A truck loaded with wheat, just crossing the tracks in a light fog, was trapped between the gates.

"The express crashed at full speed into the truck," the stationmaster said.

Wreckage was scattered for more than 1,300 feet.

SECOND NATION FILES CHARGES OF FAVORITISM

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A second Arab nation has accused a U. N. truce observation official of favoritism toward Israel and announced it would no longer cooperate with him.

A Syrian army spokesman yesterday accused Col. Christian Moe, Norwegian chairman of the Syrian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission, of "pro-Israeli leniency" and bowing to Israeli pressure.

Jordan charged recently that U. S. Marine Col. Byron Leary, acting head of the U. N. truce observation organization, favored Israel in a dispute over Mt. Scopus.

Confidence In Leary

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold expressed confidence in Leary. After Hammarskjold visited Israel, Jordan and Syria last week, his office announced that a personal representative would be named for Mt Scopus questions, apparently sidetracking Leary.

The Syrian spokesman said a complaint against Moe would be sent without delay to Leary. The Syrians charged Moe had refused to let his commission take up a Syrian request for an inquiry into Israel's right to exercise sovereignty in the Syrian-Israeli demilitarized frontier zone.

PENNA. BIDDER GETS PROTEST

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Local dairies protested today award by the State Department of Health of a contract to a Pennsylvania bidder to supply milk to the new Western Maryland Chronic Disease Hospital.

The contract, for 15 months beginning Dec. 1, was awarded Nov 19 to Hall's Dairy Co. of Waynesboro, Pa.

"We haven't a chance to get dairy business in Pennsylvania under the same consideration given in Maryland to out of state dairies," said Raymond Parks of the Hagerstown Dairy Co.

Parks, one of the unsuccessful bidders, protested that local dairy companies "pay taxes to Maryland and we have no protection such as given to Pennsylvania dairies" by their state agency. Park said the Pennsylvania Milk Commission fixes prices to prevent cutting "and we have no such protection in Maryland."

Try marinating those chunks of beef or lamb for broiling on skewers in a mixture of red wine vinegar, olive oil and plenty of fresh dill.

DENT IS CHOSEN FOR CONGRESS BY DEMOCRATS

HARRISBURG (AP)— Sen. John H. Dent, newly nominated Democratic candidate for congress from Westmoreland County, declined today to speculate on who would succeed him as Senate Democratic floor leader.

"Let's wait until the election is over," he told a newsman. "I am not resigning my Senate seat until after I'm elected."

Dent, 49, was unanimously chosen for the Democratic congressional nomination by the 36-member Democratic state executive committee here yesterday.

He will oppose Herbert O. Morrison, Scottdale Republican, in a special election Jan. 21 to fill the vacancy created by the death of Augustine B. Kelley, veteran Democratic Congressman.

Dent Is Favored

Dent appeared to be a favorite to succeed Kelley since the Democratic registration in Westmoreland County is more than double that of the GOP.

But his victory for that seat could to a rough-and-tumble battle for the Senate Democratic floor leadership.

As minority floor leader Dent serves automatically on the General State Authority, Highway Bridge Authority and the State Public School Building Authority.

He also is in a position to name the Senate Democratic representation on such groups as the General Assembley's Joint State Government Commission and Local Government Commission.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader is planning to resign his assembly post next month to assume a seat on the Berks County Common Pleas Court.

Favors Andrews

He has proposed that Rep. H.G. Andrews, assistant Democratic floor leader, succeed him in the top leadership post. As with the Senate floor chieftain's post, this also carries memberships on the authorities.

Both Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (Northampton) and Sen. W. J. Lane (Washington) were known to be interested in taking over from Dent. But there was a possibility that Sen. Joseph M. Barr Democratic state chairman, may be chosen as a compromise candidate should a fight develop.

Sen Frank W. Ruth (Berks) also could be chosen to insure peace. He is assistant Senate Democratic floor leader.

Should Dent win and resign immediately after Jan. 21 the remaining two years of his term could be filled by a special election in conjunction with the May 21 primary.

PRINCE GRINS AS COMEDIAN LAMPOONS HIM

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip looked on with a game grin last night as a group of Britain's zaniest comedians lampooned his recent TV talk on science.

The performance at a postmidnight charity show marked a new high in the current trend toward cozier relations between the royal famly and the public. Officials of Buckingham Palace had approved the skit in advance.

TV comedian Peter Cavanagh, who impersonated the prince, said as far as he knew it was the first time a living member of the royal family had been impersonated in public with prior approval from the palace.

Quite Amusing

Cavanagh, decked out in naval uniform and a blond wig simulating the prince's receding hairline, burlesqued the prince's telecast last June explaining the purpose of the International Geophysical Year.

A small round ball, dropped to illustrate the force of gravity, flew up among the overhead lights. A model Sputnik the phony prince said would give off beeps as it whirled around the earth instead sounde the first few bars of "Oh, Mein Papa."

Cavanagh was repeately interupted by comedians playing the part of mad scientists. In a grand finale, an outsized sphere blew up in Cavanagh's face and the band blared out with "There'll Always Be an England."

Philip appeared to find it all quite amusing.

STOCKS DECLINE

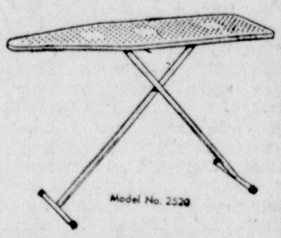

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels continued under pressure early today as the Stock Market resumed its decline in moderate trading.

Losses of fractions to around a point were prevalent among key stocks but there was an occasional small gainer.

Rails, motors, nonferrous metals, chemicals and most leading oils declined.

more about cosmic rays and new facts about light from the stars are sought from the current sputniks, he said. On the definition of outer space, Mara said the sputniks are only a first step. "At standard speeds of 25,000 miles per hour, it would take two years for a satellite or missile to reach Mars. It takes light, traveling at 186,000 miles per second, 150,000 years to cross the Milky Way and our planetary system is only one cluster on the edge of that vast collection of bodies in space," he said.

secretary of the Gettysburg club, is handling the local arrangements for the ceremony. The public is invited.

A four-lane controlled-access highway, the project eliminates a dangerous condition at the intersection of U. S. 15 and Route 94 at York Springs. The intersection, at the bottom of a hill, was the site of many serious traffic accidents in the past, including several in which deaths resulted.

U. S. 15 traffic now will cross Route 94 over a bridge. A partial cloverleaf interchange there permits traffic to move between the two highways. Route 94 was widened at the interchange to accommodate left turning movements.

Each of the four concrete lanes is 12 feet wide, and northbound and southbound traffic will be separated by a 20 feet wide earth mall.

Cost $1,230,281

Contract for the 3.36-mile highway was awarded to Hempt Construction Company of Camp Hill on September 26, 1956, on a low bid of $1,230,281. Financing is through the 50-50 program of Federal aid to primary highway construction.

U. S. 15 is the main Harrisburg to Washington highway and heavily traveled. The Department of Highways is relocating the section between the Pennsylvania Turnpike and Dillsburg as a four-lane controlled-access highway, eliminating a dangerous railroad underpass at Rose Garden.

and "the last time I looked at the speedometer we were driving at 60 miles an hour" and "that's all I remember."

The officer said marks on the highway indicated the car may have been "going sideways" for 15 feet, then there were marks for 48 feet along the berm, and there were indications on an embankment which led him to believe the car skidded sideways as it came out of a slight curve, and continued off the road, up an embankment, rolled down, shearing off a telephone pole, and finally came to rest on the highway about ten feet from the pole.

Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist told the jury that Gillespie's death was caused by a broken neck, internal injuries and a broken right leg.

Jury's Verdict

The coroner's jury included Mrs. Clara Bushey, Harold Ecker, Mrs. Elizabeth Bollinger, Mrs. Ethel Crist, Herbert Taylor and G. Henry Roth. It found that Gillespie came to his death from a broken neck and internal injuries brought about by the collision of a car in which he was a passenger with a utility pole, and rolling over, and added "It is the opinion of the jury that the accident was caused by the negligent operation of the car by the driver, David Samuel Muench."

Attorney Edwin Nikirk, Frederick, and Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr., Gettysburg, represented Muench at the inquest and hearing. Muench did not take the stand at either Attorney Edward Storm, of Frederick and Emmitsburg, represented the Gillespie family. District Attorney Daniel E. Ieeter represented the commonwealth.

Riegle Tells

present agriculture shop could be usd for xpansion purposs. Similar conditions would apply with respect to home economics rooms music rooms, art rooms, and gymnasium.

"A second probability would be to try to have school all year with three fourths of the school population in school at any given time. This should be a last resort and if it is anticipated, it should be known now so that plans could be started to educate the public and time made available for setting up the organization.

"A third possibility would be to construct a complete Senior High School on an entirely different site than the present high school building occupies.

Educational Television

"Educational television is in the txperimental stage. Its use so far has been for the purpose of relieving teacher shortages. Just how it could be used to eliminate building needs is not known nor is its value educatinally proved conclusively. It is my intention, as time permits, to find out just how successful this teaching instrument is. So far, its results cannot be measured effectively due to the short time it has been used.

"Recent local development, or rather recent consciousness, relative to the number of slow learners or academically retarded pupils in our high school point to the serious need of at least two and perhaps three rooms of special classes for the above named groups. A recent survey of our high school teachers indicates that they believe that the most important reason for misbehavior in school stems from our lack of special classes for slow learners and academically retarded pupils.

"Recent world developments and their implications explained daily in our press and pointedly expressed and explained by President Eisenhower in his last two radio and televisoin broadcasts have made, or should have made, us more seriously concerned than ever about our rapid learners or gifted. We have no choice but to do something for them. We cannot afford the luxury of talking and not doing.

Need Facilities

"Both situations — providing for our slow learners and for the rapid learners or gifted — mean that facilities must be provided for these pupils if we are to do what is necessary for them.

"The discussing of this matter might seem premature and ill-timed but all we have to do is to recall that three years are required from the time a building is approved by the board until it is occupied. We do not now have three years until the 1960-61 term begins. You will not that in 1961-62 the projected enrollment increases to 80 pupils over the present building's rated capacity and in 1962-63 there will be 140 pupils over its rated capacity, which is only five years from now."

Mr. Riegle's estimates on high school populations for the next dozen years follow with the total high school figure listed first, then the Junior High and the third figure represents Senior High:

1960-61, 1,275, 811, 464; 1961-62, 1,332, 838, 494; 1962-63, 1,392, 831, 561; 1963-64, 1,478, 878, 600; 1964-65, 1,535, 917, 618; 1965-66, 1,568, 952, 616; 1966-67, 1,605, 951, 654; 1967-68, 1,642, 962, 680; 1968-69, 1,648, 943, 705; 1969-70, 1,634, 929, 705, and 1970-71, 1,630, 917, 713.

BECK DEFENSE BEGINS TODAY

SEATTLE (AP)—Dave Beck's attorney, his motion for a directed verdict of acquittal rebuffed, today starts presenting his case in the grand larceny trial of the portly president of the Teamsters Union.

Atty. Charles S. Burdell told newsmen that Beck, "at this point," appears certain to be a witness.

Burdell's motion for acquittal was submitted — and turned down by Superior Judge George H. Revelle — after the state rested its case against Beck yesterday.

The Teamsters Union boss is charged with misappropriating $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned car. His son Dave Jr., was convicted of similar charges Nov. 23.

The state's last witness, Donald D. McDonald, bookkeeper for the Western Conference of Teamsters, testified he never received $1,900 from Beck, who has contended he turned the money from the sale of the car over to McDonald in 1956.

College, Seminary Grad Gets New Call

Rev. Kyler, according to his announcement, tendered his resignation in order to accept a call to the Holy Community Lutheran Church of Yeagertown. He had assumed the pastorate of the Greencastle church on June 1, 1954, upon the completion of his seminary training at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. His undergraduate work was completed at Gettysburg College in 1951.

The members of Girl Scout Troop 23 of Emmanuel Church, Hanover, and Troop 30 of West Manheim, under direction of Mrs. Ralph Bittinger, Mrs. Samuel Hostetter, Mrs. Ralph Brehm, Mrs. Sterling Topper and Mrs. Dale Cool, presented each child with a wash cloth and cake of soap combined to represent a cat.

Mrs. Nathaniel Knowles, junior chairman of the Hanover branch of the Needlework Guild, said the scouts, as a result of their work in making the wash clothes, will receive Junior Needlework Guild recognition pins.

Miss E. Elizabeth Rutledge, county supervisor of special education, said several other Girl Scout troops and other groups are working on "Do-It" books and other gifts or the children at the Day-Care Center.

SCHOOL HEALTH REPORT GIVEN

The monthly school health report was submitted to the joint school board members Monday evening by Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle with special commendation for the school nurses, Ellen R. Miller and M. Lucille Brennan.

The nurses' report showed that physical and dental examinations have been completed in the high school and physical examinations have been completed in the Meade and High Street schools. Work is progressing on dental examinations in the grade schools, the report showed. Vision and hearing tests are being done in all grades as schedules permit, the report showed.

Last month 256 pupils reported to the health service, 170 of them because of illness or injury and 87 for gym excuses. Three students were taken home ill and parents were called to the schools for 17 others. The nurses made six home visits.

There were 188 physical examinations and 226 dental checkups. There were 14 pupils referred to their doctors and seven to their dentists. Two were taken to the hospital.

HEROES

It is an inspiring thing for us all to have heroes to look up to One of the earliest books I ever read was Thomas Carlyle's "Heroes and Hero Worship." It is just as fresh a book today as when Carlyle wrote it, and it is certainly an inspiring one.

We need the story of these heroes forever fixed in our minds. And we ought to emulate and learn from them. There are even fiction heroes that we like to carry around in our mind. Many such heroes have household names.

Whenever I read a novel that has depicted many characters, long after I have read the book in which they appear, I carry them around with me and get so well acquainted with them that I imagine them in the flesh walking around with me! How can anyone forget Balzac's "Father Goriot"? Or Jean Valjean in Hugo's "Les Miserables," or Sydney Carton in "The Tale of Two Cities" by Dickens"? The influence of great books that depict unforgettable characters is impossible to estimate. They all are the heroes of literature.

Take the example of the small boy. He wants to become a railroad engineer, or a policeman, or a star baseball player! Such a boy should be encouraged. He may later become President of the United States! Most of these Presidents had visions and looked up to heroes, long before they became heroes to many.

Youthful readers should be encouraged to read the life stories of our great men and women. Never shall I forget the joy and thrills I had in reading many volumes of such books in my father's library —and the shelves of my library are well stocked with such books. Those heroes were once living men and women!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Relationship"

Just Folks

HANG ON

You never can tell from the things of today
What tomorrow is going to be.
Whether sunny or cloudy or dismal or gay,
But it's worth while to hang on and see.
The thing that appears very difficult now
Perhaps will be simple tomorrow,
You may find a way out of your troubles somehow,
So it's foolish to give way to sorrow.

You may be right down in the depths of despair
And of sunlight see never a ray,
And think you are getting far more than your share
Of misfortune and trouble today;
And perhaps you may think that your outlook is blue,
And get back to the job in the morning
To find that the sun's begun shining for you
And gloom has passed on without warning.

Fate plays some queer tricks in the course of a day.
The ups, in the morn may be down;
The frowners today may tomorrow be gay
And the smilers show up with a frown.
You may be right now on the brink of success,
And again you may not, I'll agree.
What is going to happen you never can guess,
But it's worth while to hang on and see.

SAYS AMERICA ASKS PROGRESS WITH MISSILES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) said today the American people are "demanding that this country forge ahead in the missile field, no matter what it may cost."

And, he added, in his judgment Congress is ready to vote defense money "on any reasonable considered and justified basis."

The senator spoke in an interview as members of the staff of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee prepared for the reopening of hearings Friday into the nation's missile-satellite programs.

To Quiz Officials

Defense officials will be questioned at length on the failure last Friday of the Vanguard rocket, a 72-foot device with which the Navy attempted to put the first U. S. earth satellite into orbit.

The Office of Naval Research—which has jurisdiction over Vanguard—reported it had determined the exact cause of the rocket's failure at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., test area.

The misfire "was caused by a mechanical failure in the propulsion system, details of which are classified," the Navy said.

Stirred Congress

The failure of the Vanguard rocket stirred new congressional demands for acceleration of the satellite and missiles programs. Pressure for a speedup has been building since Oct. 4 when Russia launched its first satellite. Russia put SSputnik II into orbit Nov. 3.

The chief assistant to President Eisenhower, Sherman Adams said however, that the Vanguard failure was not as serious as some people think.

"I can't throw much light on the subject," he said in a news conference in St. Louis. "But we'll have it straightened out before long. What we want is action and better luck next time. . . .

"It is not as serious as taken to be in some quarters of this country and around the world."

Stevenson's View

A top Democrat, Adlai Stevenson, said in New York that the challenge presented by Russia's satellite launchings is for this nation to match Soviet science "without sacrificing, as Russia has done, the essentials of individual welfare."

Stevenson, his party's nominee for president in 1952 and 1956, said in a speech: "There is going to have to be some belt-tightening, some more self-discipline and some more political courage on both sides of the fence."

Meanwhile, it was reported in London that Britain and the United States were nearing a new agreement to locate at least four bases in Britain or U. S. medium range rockets.

STATION LINEUP

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Portage Terrace in nearby Cuyahoga Falls is gaining the nickname "Gasoline Alley." In a 1.4-mile distance, there are 11 service stations. One has a sign: "Better fill up here — last station for 50 feet."

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The main point in this country's meeting with its allies in Paris next week is not whether President Eisenhower can go there but what this country has to offer there in the way of ideas.

This government—judging from reports leaking out on the administration's thinking—isn't going to propose anything very new, bold or imaginative to its partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Secretary of State Dulles, starting to prepare for this meeting a month ago, looked around for some new and dramatic concept to strengthen the alliance. It is understood he didn't find what he sought.

At Serious Moment

Yet this NATO meeting comes at a moment of utmost seriousness for the Western Allies and at a time when reports from Europe indicate a dwindling faith in Eisenhower's leadership and Dulles' ability.

Eisenhower doctors, checking him over today, will determine whether he has recovered enough from his mild stroke to make the trip. If the answer is no, Vice President Nixon no doubt will go in Eisenhower's place.

Eisenhower's appearance in Paris, besides testifying to his quick recovery, might provide some dramatic color to the meeting and demonstrate his realization of its importance.

If He Goes

But if he goes to Paris, and then because of his health, has to restrict his activity, it might in the end be more effective if Nixon, physically able to devote full time to the problems, went instead.

The Russians Sputniks, startling evidence of Russia's scientific progress, shocked the West Europeans, who live next door to the Soviets and would be in range of Russian intermediate range missiles if war began. This is disturbing.

So is their realization of the progress the Russians have been making in the Middle East—Europe's main oil source—at a time when Western influence has been decaying there.

There've Been Splits

In addition there have been splits among the Allies. For example: between the French and their American and British friends over arms shipments to Tunisia, next door to Algeria where France is fighting revolt.

This country reportedly has rejected any plan for working with NATO to win the Middle East from Russia with a broad, Allied economic plan although the nited States next year plans to step up foreign aid worldwide.

Nor is likely this country will offer anything in the way of pulling the West Europeans closer together politically. Apparently the main American proposals will be military For example:

Trying to get the allies to let this country have bases for missiles which could offset a Russian missile threat, although the American missiles can't be delivered to Europe before 1958.

PRESIDENT WILL GET WORD TODAY ON PARIS TRIP

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower learns today whether his doctors feel he is fit enough to attend the North Atlantic Alliance summit meeting in Paris next week.

The President arranged to undergo an afternoon medical checkup by a team of doctors, including most or all of the nine physicians who examined him after he suffered a mild stroke 15 days ago.

At the time, Eisenhower's doctors said the "outlook for complete recovery within a reasonable period of time is excellent." They prescribed several weeks of rest and "substantially decreased activity."

Since then, Eisenhower seemingly has made strong recovery progress. He has continued to handle presidential chores, although at a reduced rate

The President returned from a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm yesterday, making the automobile trip through the rain in 2 hours and 5 minutes. Mrs. Eisenhower was with him.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty replied "I would think so" when he was asked by newsmen if Eisenhower would decide today whether he would go to Paris for the three-day NATO meeting that opens Monday.

If Eisenhower is unable to make the Paris trip, Vice President Nixon would go in his place.

If, as expected, Eisenhower does go, indications are he will leave Washington by air Friday and arrive in the French capital the next day.

Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's top aide, told a Republican finance group meeting in St. Louis that "the President is on his way back to complete recovery."

THREE ITALIAN NOBLEMEN GET PRISON TERMS

ROME (AP)—Three young Italian noblemen were sentenced to prison today at the end of Rome's most sensational narcotics trial in years.

Twenty-four other defendants were fined or sent to jail and seven were acquitted.

Prince Giuseppe Pignatelli of Rome and Mexico City, a member of one of Italy's most prominent aristocratic families, was given two years. Duke Augusto Torlonia, reported recovering from an illness in Spain, was sentenced in absentia to two years and two months. Marquis Emmanuele de Seta, a Sicilian aristocrat and Italian World War II hero, got two years and three months.

Dawn Narcotics Raid

All were charged with possessing and using cocaine. Lawyers did not indicate whether they would appeal.

All defendants except Torlonia have been in jail since their arrest in June 1956 and the time served will count on their sentences.

The case broke with a dawn narcotics raid on a little night club just off Rome's fashionable Via Veneto. Originally 3 persons were involved, but charges against nine were dropped.

Judges deliberated for more than 11 hours before announcing the sentences, which ranged from a fine of 7,000 lire (21) to five years in prison. The court said it was giving the three nobleman "relatively light" sentences because they had no previous police records.

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Parole Board today announced it will release Ephraim Nelson of Bridgeton, who served 13 years in prison for killing a migrant laborer.

Nelson, 37, of Orange Center, Bridgeton, pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting another migrant laborer while both were working at Seabrook Farms in 1944. He was sentenced to a 20-30 year prison term.

Wildcats' Height Too Much For Bullets Who Bow 75-61; Bucknell Here Wednesday

Villanova's tall, physically strong basketball squad (2-0) wore the Gettysburg College cagers (0-2) down beneath the boards and went on a 20-point uninterrupted scoring spree midway in the first half to top the Bullets 75-61 Monday evening in the winners' field house. The Wildcats have not lost a game on their home flolor since 1946 and Monday's win was their 77th straight on that court.

The score was close in the early minutes as Del Warfel and Stan Traymore connected for seven of the Bullets' first nine ponits as the Bullets' first nine points as Gettysburg led 9-7 after 7:45. Tom Brennan, 6-7, sent Villanova ahead 10-9 on a three-point play.

Locals Collapse

A push shot by Traymore tied the count at 14-all but Ken Harrison, 6-3, landed a long shot as the Wildcats moved ahead 16-14 after 10:15 minutes. That goal sent Villanova on a 20-point scoring surge that wrapped up the decision, Del Warfel finally ending the Bullets' point famine with a goal with less that three minutes of the half remaining. At half time Villanova had a comfortable 40-23 margin.

During the first half Bob Hulton's outfit could land only seven of 29 shots from the field. They showed much improvement in the second half when they netted 16 of 37 tries.

Harrison and Brennan led Villanova to a 25-point lead earlly in the second half before the Bullets settled down and showed some fine work that produced good ball during the last 10 minutes of action.

Warfel and Walsack each netted 17 points for the Bullets while Walt Melnik and Gerry Long stood out as playmakers. Harrison and Scott were the standouts for the 'Cats. The Bullets were out-rebounded 61-49, Frank Grzelecki snaring 13. John Scott, 6-8, had 15 rebounds for the winners.

Frosh Thumped

Villanova's freshman team, rated as the best in the school's history, thumped the Bullet frosh 106-55 in the preliminary game. Jim Huggard, a 5-10 phenom, turned in a tremendous performance and registered 28 points. Bill Fitzkee played well for Coach Howard Shoemaker's outfit and landed 20 points on five goals and 10 of 16 free tosses.

The Bullets take on another rugged assignment Wednesday when the meet Bucknell here in a double-header, the freshman game starting at 6:45.

MARYLAND NIPS KENTUCKY AND TEMPLE LOSES

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Yup, friends, it's a new college basketball season all right.

No sooner are Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels tabbed again as the nation's No. 1 team than a flock of potent challengers turn up. Kentucky's beatable, and even Wilt the Stilt Chamberlain has a likely rival.

Maryland, bouncing Kentucky 71-62, and Cincinnati, romping 80-57 over a Temple team regarded as about tops in the East, fired the strongest playing-court protests last night to the way the nation's experts rated the teams in the first weekly Associated Press poll of the new campaign.

Salvoes also came from Kansas, an 82-62 winner over Marquette; Bradley, whipping Arizona 91-52; Kansas State, downing Purdue 79-73; Notre Dame, 69-56 over Nerbaska; Texas Christian, 65-56 over well - regarded Oklahoma City; Seattle in a 104-54 rout of Portland State; Rice, cuffing LSU 81-56; and even little St. Francis (Pa.), upsetting Duquesne 65-64.

Chamberlain, as highly ballyhooed individually as North Carolina was collectively last season, picked up a challenger in Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson. An 18-year-old sophomore, he dazzled Temple for 36 points and 18 rebounds in running his young season's work to 64 points in 68 minutes of play.

North Carolina, drawing 41 of 171 first-place votes and 1,018 points, led the first AP reckoning in a close race with Kansas, which drew 34 firsts and 965 points. Rounding out the top 10 were Kentucky, Bradley, Kansas State, San Francisco, Michigan State, West Virginia, St. Louis and Temple—in that order.

The 20 Leaders

Maryland, now 3-0 and a definite Atlantic Coast Conference threat to North Carolina, rallied in the last 10 minutes against a Kentucky team that had opened with squeakers over Duke, Ohio State and Temple. John Nacincik's three-pointer broke a 56-all tie and Tom Young added two important free throws after swiping a Kentucky pass.

Robertson, who entered Cincinnati hailed as one of Indiana's all-time prep stars, got free rein after having scored 28 points in 28 minutes in the Bearcats' opener against Indiana State. The 6-5 ace hit on 16 of 21 field goal attempts, added four free throws and led both teams in rebounding.

Chamberlain showed he's ready to meet the newcomer's challenge with 40 points against Marquette, giving him 129 in four games for a 32.2 average. Barney Cable's 16 led Bradley's balanced attack and 6-8 Bob Boozer had 25 points to again lead Kansas State.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. North Carolina	(41)	1,018

CHAMBERSBURG TO BE STRONG SP CONTENDER

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles dealing with basketball prospects of South Penn Conference teams.)

CHAMBERSBURG — The return to Chambersburg High School varsity basketball uniform of two of last year's regulars and the addition of several standout members of of several standout members of last last year's year's South Penn Conference co-championship junior varsity team are among the reasons Trojan coach Lowell W. Schlichter has indicated he is "pleased" with this varsity squad.

The "pleased" comment is quite a condescension for Schlichter, for the 15-year veteran of Chambersburg basketbal supervision is normally quite tight-lipped about any real potential his teams may have.

Among the more experienced members on this year's squad list of 18 are Irvin Ransom, 6-3, all-conference center last season, now a senior, and Jim Strite, 5-11 senior who won a starting guard slot after a pre-conference trial last year. These two and Darryl Stoops, also a senior at 5-11 and a front-line reserve last season, were delegated to starting roles by their coach before the season opened last Friday.

Top Prospects

Schlichter indicates that any two of four other candidates could nail down the remaining starters' berths by the time the team's first conference game rolls around December 30. The four nclude: Ron Yourkavitch, six-foot guard or forward, who was with the team for an early part of the last season and whose strong development has been a boon for this year's hopes; Galen Warren, 5-10 senior guard who saw substitute action last season; Bernie Washabaugh, a forward at 6-1, scoring leader of the 1956-57 junior varsity, and George Richardson, forward or center, tallest regular on the junior varsity last year, now 6-2.

Yourkavitch and Warren were starters in Friday's opener, in line with the coach's policy of giving capable Seniors first opportunity to win first-team assignments over underclassmen.

Another prominent figure in this season's plans is Hugh Crittenden, six-foot hustling forward and Junior High Conference scoring leader two years ago whose rebounding as a varsity reserve was prominent last year. Other reserves of the past, back in uniform, are Ben Hair and Ed Salter, both 5-10 Seniors.

More Strength

Additional bench strength will come from Sid Strayer, 5-11, and Stuart Chase, 5-8, both JV regulars in 1956-57, and Jim Heatherly (5-11), Bran Jacobs (6-2) and Dick Young (5-10), all JV reserves in the past. Additional height, with little experience, is brought to the team by newcomers Ted Jones (6-3) and Bob Stouffer (6-2), both juniors.

Two leaders of last season's undefeated (16-0) Junior High unit may go along with the varsity or may play junior varsity ball, depending upon their development. Elden Leisher, Junior High conference scoring leader, and Mike Tolbert, both six-foot sophomores, are the lads in question.

Ths year's Trojan unit will be of average height. The squad's speed and experience could make it a strong conference contender.

The schedule: Dec. 6, at Scotland (61-54); 10, Altoona; 13, at Hagerstown; 17, Delone Catholic; 26, alumni; 30, Shippensburg.

Jan. 3, at Hershey; 7, Middletown; 10, at Waynesboro; 14, Carlisle; 17, at Mechanicsburg; 21, Hanover; 24, at Gettysburg; 28, Scotland.

Feb. 4, at Shippensburg; 7, Hershey; 11, at Middletown; 14, Waynesboro; 18, at Carlisle; 21, Mechanicsburg; 25 at Hanover; 28, Gettysburg.

MARSHALL ADDS 4 MORE POINTS

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Marshall of Hershey continued his reign as the No. 1 scorer in American Hockey League play last week while goalie Johnny Bower came up with a record defensive performance that kept Cleveland second behind the Bears in the standings.

Marshall picked up only four points in three games while Bill Sweeney of Providence added three in a single contest, but the Hershey hustler still has a four-point edge over the runner-up. Marshall leads in goals with 18 and has added 20 assists for a total of 38 points. Sweeney has scored 14 goals, plus 20 assists, for 34 points.

Fred Glover of Cleveland is tops in assists with 21.

Bauer lowered his leading goals-against average to 2.24, permitting 56 in 25 games while setting a record with 249 minutes, 51 seconds of shutout tending. He ran up three consecutive shutouts in the spurt, boostin, his career total to 42, tops in AHL history. He has five for the season.

Tourist travel in Israel increased between 1956 and 1957 by 56 per cent during the month of September.

DEATH STALKS YOUNG HUNTER IN NEW JERSEY

MOUNT FREEDOM, N.J. (AP) — Death stalked a youthful hunter on the opening day of New Jersey's deer season.

It followed him yesterday into an open field where he hunted alone in the rain.

It fairly leaped at its victim, Edward J. Bower, 18, of Dover, when a desperate, pain-seared deer jumped cover and bounded into the field beside him.

In pursuit of the wounded animal were three other young hunters. One of them, Ronald Douglas, 20, of Randolph Township, spotted the stricken deer as it jumped from cover.

Douglas fired one shot and then another.

Bower's scream was the answer to the second shot in the damp woods. The trio rushed into the open field.

Didn't Want To Die

The 12-gauge deer pellets had ripped into Bower's neck, shoulder and back. Just 10 feet from where he lay bleeding on the sodden field was the resh carcass of the fallen buck.

Two of the three hunters ran to a house a half mile away and summoned aid. Bower was rushed to Dover General Hospital.

There, as doctors tried to save him, death finally caught Bower.

The fallen hunter had pleaded for the ambulance to hurry and moaned, "I don't want to die."

State police said the youth was the only fatal victim in the first day of hunting.

Randolph Township Police Chief George Okun labeled the shooting accidental, pending a complete investigation.

Okun, who identified Douglas as the lad who fired the fatal shot, said the other companions were Ed Dilg, 18, of Mine Hill, and a 14-year-old boy.

DON HENNON OFF TO GOOD START AGAIN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—In this day of the outsized basketball player, sharp-shooting Don Hennon of Pitt more than holds his own at 5 feet 8½.

Don isn't really small by average standards. He only seems little on the basketball floor weaving around towering opponents.

Hennon's 180 pounds are carried on a frame that gives him the chunky appearance of a fast guard on a football team.

Led Last Year

Hennon led the Panthers in scoring last season as a sophomore when they chalked up a mediocre 16 - 11 record. He tossed in 573 points, 160 more than any other Pitt player, hitting on 41 per cent of his field goal attempts and 82 per cent of his free throws.

In the process he set two school records. He tossed in 17 field goals against North Carolina State for the most field goals in one game and hit the basket 225 times for the most field goals in one season.

He's off to a good start again this year. In two games he has dropped in 25 field goals and 14 free throws for a total of 64 and an average of 32.

"Like An Easter Bunny"

Against Furman last Friday he startled coach Bob Timmons and his teammates by voluntarily withdrawing from the game after scoring 38 points, just two shy of Pitt's record high of 40 for one game set by Ed Pavlick in 1954.

With seven minutes remaining, Hennon had seemed a sure bet to break the old mark.

Don came to Pitt from Wampum, Pa., where he set a Pennsylvania scholastic scoring record of 2,376 while playing basketball under his father, coach Butler Hennon.

Timmons sums up Hennon's ability this way:

"Don is like an Easter bunny. Once he finds the basket, everything goes in it."

Bucs Sign Star From West Coast

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today the signing of Lawrence L. Elliot, 19, of San Diego, Calif., to a 1958 contract with their Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League.

The 6-4, 218-pound Elliot plays first base, the outfield and pitches. He throws and bats lefthanded.

He played three years for the San Diego Hoover High School baseball team and was named San Diego Player of the Year in 1956.

FRANKIE RYFF WINS DECISION

NEW YORK (AP) — Frankie Ryff cheerfully surrendered his "bleeding" championship today to Frankie Ippolito and set his sights on the lightweight title.

"If I have to give any blood from now on, I hope it's just for the Red Cross," said Ryff, one-time third - ranking lightweight contender.

For the first time in three years the rangy 25-year-old New Yorker came out of a fight without any cuts over his eyes. Making his first start in eight months, after an operation for removal of scar tissue over both eyes, Ryff easily outpointed and chopped up Ippolito in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Ippolito, a Bronx rival of Ryff's, bled from the nose and from two gashes over his left eye. He will require about 10 stitches.

Ryff went to work early on his swarthy, stocky rival last night. Using a snapping left jab and a fast left hook, he had Ippolito bleeding from the nose from the first round and from cuts over the eye from the sixth frame on.

AUBURN GETS TROPHY TODAY

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—Let it rain, let it pour. The sun would still be shining and birds singing in Auburn hearts as the Tigers receive their first national football championship trophy today.

Ted Smits of New York, general sports editor of The Associated Press, was on hand to present the trophy to the school at ceremonies in Cliff Hare Stadium. He also planned to present an All America certificate to end Jimmy Phillips.

Auburn completed its 1957 season in a blaze of gridiron glory. It captured the Southeastern Conference title, won national defensive honors, and then was voted national champions for the year.

The entire state joined in the celebration through a proclamation of Gov. James E. Folsom declaring "Auburn Day" in Alabama. Partisan feelings were buried as the new University of Alabama head football coach, Paul (Bear) Bryant, sent congratulations.

GIVE 4 REASONS FOR DECLINE IN GRID CROWDS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

College football attendance dropped a bit in 1957 because (1) of television, (2) of low-scoring, ball-control tactics, (3) it's harder to get a spare buck these days, and (4) people have more ways to entertain themselves or be entertained than they used to.

The decline was rather small—1.41 per cent of the average at major colleges surveyed by The Associated Press. But that decline, in view of large enrollments and alumni bodies, was significant enough or the inclusion in The AP post-season questionnaire of a question about the reasons for the drop.

While TV, both the Saturday afternoon college variety and the Sunday afternoon pro games, was listed as the No. 1 reason, the replies brought some strong comments about "dull" split T, ball-control football.

22 Men In Crap Game

One writer described it as resembling "22 men in a big crap game."

This kind of football, they said, was driving the fans away, especially where it was contrasted with the livelier, free-scoring professional football—either live or televised.

While a dozen of about 60 writers and broadcasters replying to the questionnaire gave ball control as the No. 1 reason for crowd decreases, 20 said television was the principal reason and several others gave that as a secondary cause.

A typical comment: "Television. No more striking example than the Oklahoma-Notre Dame game. A lot of fans preferred to stay at home and watch this ballyhooed game rather than attend a game involving teams they usually follow."

Easier And Cheaper

Others, commenting in a similar vein, added TV eliminates the hazards and inconveniehces of traffic, parking and bad weather and also is cheaper than going to a game.

At least 10 mentioned the high cost of "live" football and tighter economic conditions. One pointed out attending a college game often takes the form of a weekend vacation.

Four writers said the competition from televised pro football cut down college attendance and several on the Pacific Coast said the colleges there were suffering by contrast to the pros, as indicated by a 51,000 crowd for Stanford vs. Southern California one day and 102,000 for the Rams vs. the 49ers the next.

M'ELROY FLIES TO BERLIN FOR NEW AIR BASES

LONDON (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy flew to Berlin today after talks with British officials which he said "resulted in a common understanding for the future."

He departed on a U.S. Air Force plane amid reports that a U.S.-British agreement is almost completed for locating at least four bases for intermediate-range ballistic missiles in Britain. Three would be British controlled and one American.

McElroy will visit American units in West Germany and will confer with West German officials in Bonn Thursday before going to Paris to attend the NATO summit meeting next week.

McElroy flew here Saturday from Washington. He held an intensive round of talks with Prime Minister Macmillan, Defense Minister Duncan Sandys and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

The Liberal News Chronicle said the United States will start delivering "ballistic missiles—1,500-mile-range rocket — to Britain next year. It is unlikely that more than one site—if that—will be manned by Americans."

Proposals for establishing U.S. missile bases in other Western European countries are expected to be discussed in Paris.

Belgium has accepted an American offer of Nike missiles.

Turkey, another NATO member, said yesterday it will soon have U.S. Nike antiaircraft missiles and Honest John artillery missiles.

Top foreign affairs experts of Iran, Iraq, Turkey and Pakistan met in Ankara today. Informed sources said the four Moslem members of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact will "forge a common view" on Middle Eastern problems for Turkey to present at Paris. Turkey is the only NATO member among the four.

5 ARE KILLED IN COAL MINE

BECKLEY, W.Va. (AP) — Five coal miners were killed last night, a few minutes before their work shift was to end, when tons of rock caved in on them inside a southern West Virginia mine.

Three of the bodies were recovered during the night and a fourth sighted in the rubble, officials of the Raleigh-Wyoming Mining Co. said. The fifth body was still being sought.

The tragedy occurred two miles inside the company's No. 2 Mine at Glen Rodgers, 15 miles southeast of here, at 10:45 p.m. The work shift was to end at 11 p.m.

Company officials blamed the accident on a "mountain bump." They said the pressure from above became so great that the mine roof broke through the heavy timbers holding it up.

The dead were identified as George Durham and Wayman Acord of Bolt, W.Va.; Noel Trump and John Lomack of Glen Rodgers; and John Coleman of Beckley.

YOUNGSTER IS KILLED TRYING TO LOOT STORE

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy using the butt of a shotgun to break into a store window was killed early today when the gun discharged, police reported.

Chief Howard Shook of Middletown Township police said Ronald Frymyer had used the butt of a 12 gauge shotgun to break a plate glass window of Kinney's Shoe Store in the Country Club Shopping Center on Route 1.

The body was found about two feet outside the smashed window and the shotgun inside the store. Shook said about nine pellets struck the boy in the head.

The boy's father, Solomon Frymyer of Levittown, said the boy apparently slipped out of the Frymyer home a quarter mile from the shopping center after going to bed.

Acted Suspiciously

"I just can't understand why he went out," said the father, who is district manager for a freight company.

There was no identification on the body. Police established identity through telephone numbers written on a piece of paper found in the boy's clothing. He wore blue dungarees and a leather jacket.

The blast was heard by two police officers from about 30 yards away. They had been called to the area after the owner of the shopping center reported about a half hour earlier that a boy had been seen in a bowling alley and seemed suspicious.

Formerly Of York

Frymyer, 39, and his wife, Elsie, 38, have two other children, Richard, 16, and Fred, 2. The couple formerly lived at York, Pa.

Frymyer said he hadn't used the gun for about five years but did have a box of shells at home. He said the boy had never been in trouble before.

Police said no other shells were found on the body.

The Frymyers live in a six-room ranch type house in the newest part of the Levittown development.

UNION STRIKE MAY PARALYZE TRAFFIC IN CITY

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike by a rebellious motormen's union, supported by six other craft unions, cut New York City subway service to about a third of normal today, the Transit Authority said.

Pickets appeared at most bus depots throughout the city.

Authority officials urged that only persons with essential business attempt to use the city's subways.

As the situation worsened on the second day of the strike, an official of the Motormen's Benevolent Assn., the union that started the walkoff when it struck the transit system a 5 a.m. yesterday, declared the city will be paralyzed by 8 a.m.

The announcement was made by Frank A. Zelano, executive secretary of the MBA.

Most Lines Out

Most lines on the Independent line, which operates in all boroughs except Staten Island, were out, the TA said. The few IND lines that were still operating were doing so irregularly, according to the TA.

The Interboro Rapid Transit, which ran almost 100 per cent of normal yesterday, was reported down to 30 per cent efficiency the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit was reported at 25 per cent of normal. It provided about 50 per cent of its usual service yesterday.

The IRT serves Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and Brooklyn. The BMT operates in Manhattan, Queens and Brooklyn.

REDS SAY THEY MADE 2 TRIES TO FIRE MISSILES

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet scientist boasted today that Russia has made only two attempts to launch earth satellites and both succeeded.

The remarks of the scientists were part of a full-page display in Pravda saluting the completion of 1,000 trips around the earth by Sputnik I, launched Oct. 4.

Academician L. Sedov wrote: "The entire preparatory work of launching the satellites was carried out thoroughly. Separate elements were tested, studied and checked. The general system of launching was designed and analyzed in detail. The result was that in the Soviet Union there were no unsuccessful attempts in launching artificial earth satellites.

"Only two attempts were carried out and both were successful. It can be noted also that the launching of the Soviet satellites was carried out somewhat earlier than originally planned."

Sedov cited America's difficulties with their satellite. But he said the United States has experienced, fully qualified specialists in rocket technique and I believe they will succeed in launching a satellite after a certain period of time. The Soviet specialists sincerely wish American scientists and engineers success."

Sedov said Soviet scientists hope development of the satellite "will serve as a basis for peaceful competition, for the beginning of joint efforts in the solution of the great tasks of interplanetary travel of the future. . . ."

KILLED BY AUTO

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Raymond H. Peters Jr., 6, was injured fatally yesterday when struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of his home at nearby New Holland, Pa.

Police said the youngster was on his way to a sporting goods store to get a pair of ice skates for Christmas. With him at the time were his mother, Mrs. Mary Peters, and a sister, Raynel, 11.

The car was driven by Richard Bare, 33, of Ephrata, Pa., police said.

Fire Police Chief, Reinstate Officer

BRISTOL, Pa. (AP)—The Bristol Borough Council accepted the police chief's resignation last night and reinstated a patrolman.

Patrolman Peter Caro was dismissed last Monday after a fight with a detective over a new work schedule calling for longer hours. But the council decided that the punishment was too harsh.

Police Chief Linford J. Jones resigned because he "flatly refused to accept a change in work schedule," Burgess Anthony Niccol said.

LAWYER GUILTY REPRESENTING FOREIGN POWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Joseph Frank was free on bond today pending sentencing on his conviction on charges of acting illegally as an agent for the Dominican Republic and Generallissimo Rafael Trujillo.

Frank, 42, Washington attorney and former FBI agent, was convicted last night by a Federal District Court jury.

The jury of nine women and three men reached its decision after reporting Friday it was hopelessly deadlocked. Judge James R. Kirkland has ordered further deliberations following a weekend recess of court.

Frank faces a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each of four counts.

Plan To Appeal

In allowing Frank to remain free under $10,000 bond, Kirkland said the case will be referred to the probation office for a pre-sentence investigation. He fixed no date for imposing sentence, but there generally is a lag of several weeks between conviction and sentencing.

Frank had no comment on the verdict, but his chief counsel, Edward L. Carey, told reporters there will be an appeal.

The indictment alleged that Frank acted as an agent of the Dominican Republic and Trujillo while wilfully failing to register with the justice department.

SLATE BAKERY WORKERS FOR "EXPULSION"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, angry at repeated rebuffs in efforts to rid the Bakery Workers Union of alleged corrupt elements, today slated the 132,000-member union for immediate expulsion.

Convention delegates voted by a 7-1 margin yesterday to expel the bakery group, but to withhold its effect perhaps to March 15 to give James G. Cross, accused Bakery Union president, time to abdicate.

Then when Cross reiterated he had no intention of stepping out, and would seek re-election at a special Bakery Unior convention next spring, AFL-CIO President George Meany shoved ahead the expulsion timetable.

Blasted As Corrupt

Blasting Cross as corrupt, Meany indicated the expulsion reprieve would be canceled, the union kicked out and a reform "integrity group" of the bakers chartered as a new, clean Bakery Workers Union.

The "integrity" group, claiming to represent about 100 local unions in cities across the nation with some 50,000 members, or more than a third of the Bakers Union, has had delegates here a week drafting a constitution and otherwise getting ready to establish a new union.

Meany condemned Cross in a blunt, tough speech. He detailed testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington that Cross had accepted expensive cars bought with union funds, had used union money to finance lavish homes in Washington and Florida, and practiced reprisals and "terrorism" against unionists opposing him.

Cross, with his wife, daughter and son-in-law watching from the galleries, told delegates he had done nothing sufficiently wrong warranting the demand for his ouster. Cross said he was "a whipping boy, a scapegoat."

But Meany told delegates of Cross: "This is a remarkable guy. I have seen both sides of him and I can tell you quite frankly that this union is in a bad way if he continues to run its affairs."

Three more unions — the Laundry, Distillery and United Textile Workers unions — also face expulsion moves this week.

Dr. Ralph E. Morgan, Mifflin County coroner, said Heiser had suffered from a heart ailment for the past four years.

TOUGH ACTORS SEEM TO MAKE DEEPER IMPRINT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you ever notice that actors who play tough guy roles seem to be more memorable than actors who play nice guys roles?

Look at Humphrey Bogart and Jimmy Cagney and Edward G. Robinson and—the list is considerable.

He's Been Pondering

Donal Woods, who holds something of a record for nice guy roles on television, in the movies and in theatrical road companies, has been pondering this for a long time.

"I want to play a tough guy," says Woods. "I want some one to believe that I'm not just a nice guy."

It's quite a problem because Woods manifestly is one of the nicest guys you ever met. Everybody agrees on that in the acting profession. Courteous, thoughtful of others, he'd cut off his credit line rather than say an unkind word of anyone.

Turns Down Stunt

As a very nice guy indeed he is seen every week-day on "Hotel Cosmopolitan" (CBS - TV, noon EST), a job he thoroughly enjoys. He also has been and is seen requently on numerous dramatic shows—always as a nice guy, however.

A fellow who was discussing this situation of nice guy roles with Woods the other day at the Lambs Club suggested that to be known as a tough guy you have to act like a tough guy. He proposed that Woods overturn the table, pretend to slug him and he would fall. This episode might then be described by a syndicated columnist and a new Woods would emerge to the public.

Woods, looking slightly shocked, replied, "But the Lambs Club would bar me for three months."

Woods raises an interesting point, however, when he says that "television should do more experimental casting than it does." In a program such as "Hotel Cosmopolitan," for example, he believes that there is more experimentation than in a night-time dramatic show.

"On 'Hotel Cosmopolitan,'" he said, "actors are frequently given a chance to do something different from what they're best known for doing."

Woods, incidentally, can be seen on TV in many reruns of his old movies—in which, of course, he was playing a good guy.

DRIVER KILLED

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A 22-year-old man was killed early today when his car ran off the road and struck a pole on North Ohio Ave. here.

The victim, Raymond Seiss of 226 S. Vermont Ave., was pronounced dead at Atlantic City Hospital.

FORD WORKERS VOTE TO STRIKE

MAHWAH, N.J. (AP) — Employes of the Ford Motor Co. assembly plant have voted overwhelmingly for a strike, according to a union spokesman.

Results of the strike balloting begun last week by members of the United Auto Workers Local 90 were to be made available today.

The union spokesman said last night the vote was 4 to 1 for a strike.

Over the weekend the company laid off 600 employes. A company spokesman said the plant, which normally employs 5,100 hourly workers, had "reduced its assembly line speed in order to maintain manufacturing efficiency and rigid quality standards."

Ford and Edsel cars are assembled at the plant.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Cruel King Ignatz of Ketchikan orders the circus people to amuse him or be imprisoned. They put on their acts but cannot make the king laugh. "Get the Strong Boy!" cried Mr. Maxim. But Richard cannot be found.

CHAPTER SIX
THE KING IS AMUSED

"Is this all there is to your circus?" demanded King Ignatz. "I have not been amused."

"There is one more thing, your majesty," said Mr. Maxim. "Our Strong Boy act."

"Bring it on, then," said the king.

But no one could find the Strong Boy for Richard was hiding in a costume trunk in the center of the ring. The sight of King Ignatz waving his sword and the sound frightened the boy that he had leaped into the trunk and pulled down the lid.

To hide himself even better he wrapped himself round and round with the costumes in the trunk.

"They'll never find me!" he whispered to himself.

But he did not know his own strength. The trunk was old and weak and as Richard thrashed about there was a sudden awful creaking and the four sides of the trunk burst open.

There, before the astonished king stood Richard with a plumed hat on his head, a clown's mask on his face, and a ballerina's dress draped from his shoulders.

"And who, pray, is this?" demanded the king at last.

"Y-your majesty," quavered Mr. Maxim, "this is the S-Strongest Boy in the World!"

"Oh!" said King Ignatz, and he began to laugh. "Ho! Ho! Ho!" He threw back his head and laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks. "The Strongest Boy in the World!" he cried. "Oh what a joke!" He pointed at Richard, whose teeth were chattering so that the sound could be heard all over the tent. "That's the funniest sight I've ever seen! I am amused!"

Mr. Maxim and all the circus folk sighed with relief.

The king roared at Richard's strange attire.

"You may go free," said King Ignatz grandly.

"Thank you, your majesty," bowed Mr. Maxim.

"Only," said King Ignatz, "I shall keep your Strong Boy. He will be my jester. He will live with me and amuse me."

"But, your majesty," protested Mr. Maxim. "He's only a dim-witted boy and —"

"Good," said the king. "He will not dare to match wits with me. Come, now. Leave my kingdom but leave the boy behind."

He waved his sword and his guards surrounded Richard and marched him to the king's palace. It was a place of dreadful gloom It was surrounded by 20-foot walls and a moat. Every window was barred and every other door led to a dungeon cell.

"Now, boy," said King Ignatz, "you are to make me laugh whenever I say. I often need to be cheered."

"I'm sure you do," said Richard timidly.

"Why so?" demanded the king in surprise.

"Because your palace is so gloomy," said Richard.

"It's the finest money can buy," thundered the king. "What would you know about palaces anyway?"

"I have been in a palace," murmured Richard.

Ignatz guffawed. "Oh you do make me laugh. You've never been in a palace except in your dreams."

"All the same," said Richard, "a palace should be bright and splendid with gardens around it and happy people everywhere."

"What nonsense!" cried Ignatz. "A king who treats his people to happiness is a weak king. I am the greatest king in the land and I am going to conquer all the world. Tomorrow I am setting out to conquer the Kingdom of Mitzenpoo."

"Mitzenpoo!" gasped Richard.

"Yes. By Christmas Day the King of Mitzenpoo will be at my feet."

Richard's face turned white and his heart pounded and suddenly he himself fell in a faint at Ignatz' feet.

(Tomorrow: Richard's Plan)

TWO HISTORICAL PAPERS GIVEN CARLISLE BRKS.

Two interesting historical papers concerning Carlisle Barracks have recently been donated to the post by Mrs. Frederic G. Kileski of (MacPhail Road) Bel Air, Md., a descendant of the Revolutionary War officer, General John Armstrong.

One paper is a copy of the original commission of General Armstrong. He was commissioned as the first brigadier general in the Continental Army on March 1, 1776, in Philadelphia. The commission is inscribed "Number One" and is signed by John Hancock. The wording of the body of the document is remarkably similar to present day commissions which are issued by Congress to officers of the Army.

Mrs. Kileski has also permitted the installation to make copies of some of the records and reports of the late John Armstrong Hermann of Harrisburg. One entry of interest concerns Rebecca Lyon Armstrong, the general's wife.

Cared For Letters

Rebecca Armstrong, the daughter of a large land proprietor in Carlisle, became one of the most prominent women of Cumberland County during the Provincial Wars and the Revolutionary War. According to the report, it was chiefly from her services during the Indian Wars in caring for settlers who fled to Carlisle from the distant frontiers that she became noted for her sympathy and benevolence. When the Revolutionary War opened, she led the women of Carlisle into the active preparation for assistance to be given patriots who had enlisted in the Continental Army to protect their country's independence. Organizing Pennsylvania's first society to act much as the present day Red Cross, she was instrumental in supplying incidental items of clothing and equipment to the soldiers of Washington's Army. The report states, "She was unstinted in her philanthropy, and was willing to sacrifice everything for the welfare of her fellow countrymen."

The Armstrong's eldest son, James, became a prominent physician, was elected to a seat in the Third Congress, and served for many years as president of the board of trustees of Dickinson College in Carlisle.

The papers have been added to the collection of historical documents of Carlisle Barracks and a copy of the commission of General Armstrong will soon be hung in the Armstrong Hall.

BRIGHTEN YULE WITH SWEETS

The Associated Press

It wouldn't be Christmas without holiday cookies. A traditional Christmas confection of Vienna may provide a new note in the cookie jar this year. Lillian Langseth Christensen of New Milford, Conn., author of the recently published "Look And Cook" book and recipe service, suggests the following continental recipe:

Sugar Pretzels

6½ cups flour
1¼ cups butter
1¾ cups confectioners' sugar
⅓ cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
1 pinch salt
½ teaspoon vanilla for half of dough
2 tablespoons cocoa for other half of dough
Vegetable shortening for pans
White Icing:
¾ cup confectioners' sugar
A little very hot water
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Cream butter, add sugar and stir well, add eggs and milk alternately with flour. Make a smooth dough, flavoring half with vanilla, the other half with cocoa. Roll dough into a sausage and cut into even pieces. Roll these pieces, one at a time, into long "sausages" about ¼ inch in diameter, keeping the other pieces cool until used. Cut into seven inch lengths. Lay the two ends of a 7-inch strip across each other and twist once to make a pretzel. Place the pretzels on a cookie sheet greased with vegetable shortening. Bake in a medium hot oven (375 degrees) till done, about fifteen minutes. Makes about 10 dozen pretzels.

Dip the pretzels in thin white icing. To prepare it, mix sugar with lemon juice and just enough very hot water to make a thick, cream-like paste. Whip the paste well and keep it liquid enough for dipping and coating the pretzels. Dip the pretzels while they are still very hot, as this is the secret of making the icing adhere.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DELAY COSTLY

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Macon R. Irby, a juror, was fined at the rate of $1 a minute for being in contempt of court. Total fine $15.

Irby explained he was "about 15 minutes" late because he couldn't find a parking place.

The judge then explained why he was levying the fine. Irby's lateness had caused a mistrial in a $1,063 damage suit.

for the annual dinner meeting of directors with teachers and other school personnel.

After receiving a written report from William K. Hood, York heating engineer, on the low water pressure problem in old sections of the high school building, the boar decided to follow Hood's recommendation for installation of a booster system with a pump, pressure tank and some new water lines. Specifications are to be prepared and bids asked for the work. Hood estimated the cost may be $5,000 but some of the required equipment many be on hand and the cost figure may be reduced thereby.

Engage Buses For Show

Bills totaling $10,570 were ordered paid for the month.

The board authorized the hiring of buses to take vocational agriculture and home economics pupils to the Farm Show next month.

In an effort to save time at the board meetings, only condensed financial reports were read with detailed copies to be distributed to board members with copies of the minutes of the board meeting. The Gettysburg National Bank, joint district treasurer, reported a current balance of $21,418 after expenses of $56,542 last month. The Activities fund showed a current balance of $12,876 and the Athletic fund $1,040.

On recommendation of the Property committee, the board approved the sending of a letter to parents of high school band members holding them responsible for cleaning and damage to band uniforms.

Plan Special Classes

The Teacher and Curriculum committee in cooperation with the superintendent and high school and elementary principals were authorized to proceed with studies toward the setting up of an additional special education class in the grades and probably two special classes in the junior high school in addition to working out a curriculum enrichment opportunity for fast learners of gifted pupils.

When Superintendent Riegle pointed out the need for a new school census — and the state law requirement that such a census be taken at least once in three years — the board decided that each member district shall conduct its own census with the work to be complete by July 1. Each district will pay for its own census. It was the opinion Monday evening that census takers will be paid on a per name basis.

The Parent-Teacher Association was represented at the meeting by two observers, Mrs. Daniel Paddock and Mrs. Sterling Musselman.

All districts were represented but eight directors were absent out of the total of 27. The absentees were: Cumberland, John Maring; Franklin, Charles Bowmaster, Harry Hall and Maynard Stuckey; Freedom, Addison Durboraw; Gettysburg, Robert Deardorff; Highland, Charles Lott, and Mt. Joy, Glenn C. Bowers.

Stevenson Opposing Cutting Domestic Budget For Missiles

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic candidate for president, has advised against cutting the domestic budget to finance an accelerated missiles program.

Stevenson outlined his program for catching up with Russia in science last night before the New York County Lawyers Assn.

He said the United States and its allies should give new economic help to the weaker areas of Asia and Africa to outmaneuver the Russians there.

It must not be a cautious approach, Stevenson said, but a resolute, nonpartisan determination to lead and stay on course.

He urged that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization be used not only for immediate military needs in meeting the Russian challenge but for this larger effort in a "joint search for a better, safer future."

More Foreign Aid

While he strongly favors enlarging the foreign aid program, Stevenson said, he believes it should be coordinated with similar programs of other free governments.

At the same time, he said, it is up to capitalist democracies to prove they can do these things without sacrificing the essentials of individual welfare as the Soviet Union has done.

He said he has been impressed by American preparation for the forthcoming NATO conference in Paris. As a special consultant to the State Department, Stevenson recently attended conferences in Washington where the preparations were viewed.

"The President has acted creditably, in my judgment, in taking steps to restore urgency to our missile program," he asserted. "But there are still other military programs that must be faced with bold resolution."

These include providing adequate mobile forces to cope "with small wars and keep them small," a drastic reorganization of the Defense Department to eliminate interservice conflicts, and an improved military recruitment program with a pay incentive for trained specialists to remain in service.

"It is well to remind ourselves here in America of the lesson of the satellites—that we are part of the human family and must learn to live not only with our allies but our adversaries," he said.

He deplored suggestions that domestic budgets be cut to pay or expanded missiles development.

"What program is it that is to be cut back?" he asked. "Is it education, slum clearance, health, social security?"

NERVES Made His Life MISERABLE

One man said recently that he was jittery and irritable, just because of simple, everyday nervousness which he states made his life miserable. He seldom got a full night's sleep and felt tired and worn-out. But now he says Sys-Tone has calmed down his nerves and he sleeps better than IN YEARS. He further states Sys-Tone also gave him a "happier outlook on life."

Sys-Tone is helping hundreds who suffer from "nerves" here in Gettysburg. This new medicine, with its Ten Great Herbs and several vitamins, helps quiet nerves—in Nature's own way—without a single harmful drug. Its Herbs also relieve stomach gas, aid digestion. And it acts as a blood-iron-tonic for energy. Costs only a few cents a day. So don't go on suffering. Get Sys-Tone—Peoples Drug Store. Also sold by all druggists in Gettysburg and nearby towns.

ZERO WEATHER IS FORECAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mass of cold air plunged southward out of Canada into the northern Plains today, bringing cold wave warnings and forecasts of zero temperatures.

Snow flurries accompanied the chilly invasion along Northern border states, but amounts were generally on the light side.

Skies were generally clear in the far Southwest and eastward to the Gulf Coast, while in the far Northwest there was considerable fog and low clouds in some sections with freezing drizzle accompanying the fog in southeastern Idaho.

The southward pushing cold air stirred up gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h. and churned dust clouds in parts of North Dakota. Snowfall associated with the chilly air movement ranged from an inch at several stations along the northern Great Lakes to 3 inches at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., also on the Lakes.

Early morning temperatures in the northern Plains were as much as 30 degrees colder than daytime readings yesterday. The mercury fell from a record-breaking 69 degrees at Billings, Mont., to well below freezing.

SPAIN FACING GUERRILLA WAR

MADRID (AP)—Spain appeared today to be in for a long guerrilla war in Ifni, her pocket-size North African colony entirely surrounded by Morocco.

Although the Spanish claimed Saturday organized resistance had ended in the 741-square-mile area on the Atlantic coast, rebel bands still holding out were estimated to total about 10,000 men. Reinforcements have brought the Spanish force to a total of ,000.

Reports from Ifni said the Spanish forces have regrouped and are ready to launch an all-out mopup.

Nationalists in neighboring Morocco claim the rebels control almost the entire colony except the immediate vicinity of the capital of Sidi Ifni.

Arab nationalists in Morocco contend the uprising is entirely the work of Ifnian rebels. The Spanish say an irregular liberation army from Morocco crossed the border and launched the attack Nov. 23.

Gets Record Price For His Baby Beef

HATFIELD, Pa. (AP) — Eleven-year-old Rex White of Emmaus, Pa., was a happier and richer boy today.

The youngster got an all time record high price yesterday for an entry in the annual 4-H club baby beef roundup at the Hatfield Fairgrounds.

The Lehigh Valley 4-H Club of Allentown paid $3.80 a pound for young White's 1,130-pound Angus steer, judged grand champion of this year's baby beef show for Bucks, Montgomery and Lehigh counties.

The 900-pound reserve champion, entered by Kent Klippenstein, Bryn Athyn, Pa., was sold to the Traylor Hotel, Allentown, for $1 a pound.

Eight persons, now under a temporary injunction, were accused of harassing Myers, his wife and three children. The state seeks a permanent injunction against the eight.

She said a motorcade came by the house once and the participants sang "Old Black Joe" and "Dixie."

The eight defendants are John T. Piechowski, Eldred Williams, James E. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Bentcliffe, John R. Bentley, David L. Heller and Mrs. John Barbazon.
